

BUILD COVERED WALK TO SHIELD GUESTS FRIDAY

Elaborate Measures are Being Taken for Comfort of Visitors to Governor's Ball

Through the office of the adjutant-general of the National Guard, Governor Pinkham has arranged to secure the 25th Infantry band and the 2nd Infantry band to furnish music for the New Year's ball. One band will be stationed on a balcony at the end of the armory, and another will be on the second floor of a pavilion being built in the center of the armory. Beneath the band platform will be a space with boxes for the governor and special guests.

A covered walk is being built from the steps of the Capitol building to the wall of the Capitol grounds across the street from the armory, and a portion of the iron railing has been moved to allow the walk to be carried to the sidewalk. A cinder path will be made across Hotel street, and if there is rain men with big Japanese umbrellas will be on hand to escort those coming from the governor's reception across the street to the armory.

Today in a memorandum order issued from General Johnson's office, the committees of National Guard officers to assist in making the governor's ball a success were named. On the general committee are: Maj. James Dougherty, Maj. Joaquim M. Camara, Maj. Laurence W. Redington, Capt. Frank J. Dougherty and Lieut. E. S. Barry. On the introducing committee: Maj. Merle M. Johnson, Capt. Henry P. O'Sullivan, Capt. Walter V. Kolb, Capt. Paul Suppe, Capt. Henry Van Gleason, Capt. Leopold G. Blackman, Capt. Gustav E. Schaefer, Capt. William Ahia, Lieut. Charles R. Frazier, Lieut. Sherwood M. Lowrey, Lieut. Alan J. Lowrey. On the armory floor committee: Maj. Arthur W. Neely, Capt. George B. Schrader, Capt. Samuel H. Ware, Capt. Edward H. Hopkins, Lieut. John Hilo, Lieut. Mark Houghtaling, Lieut. William J. Hampton, Lieut. John W. Caldwell, Lieut. Arthur W. Wheeler.

All officers of the National Guard attending the reception and ball are expected, the memorandum states, to assist in every possible way to make the evening a success, whether they are on committees or not.

The uniform for the reception and ball for New Year's Eve will be the white mess jacket. Officers not provided with white mess jackets will wear white uniforms. Aiguillettes are to be worn by those entitled to them with the white mess jacket only.

JAPANESE HIGH SCHOOL VISITS STAR-BULLETIN

To gain an idea of an up-to-date American newspaper-publishing and job-printing establishment, members of the Japanese High School yesterday visited the Star-Bulletin plant on Alakea street and went through it from top to bottom. Starting with the linotype machines, they investigated the various processes of newspaper making. The party numbered about 40 and were under the charge of Principal J. Tanjo.

SEE BLAISDELL IN SPEED TEST AT CLUB LUNCH

Champion Typewriter Operator Gives Exhibition for Ad Men; Old Legends Recounted

Speed was the order of the day at the Ad Club lunch this noon at the Alexander Young hotel. H. O. Blaisdell, former world's champion typewriter operator, demonstrated to the members the speed that was necessary to win the championship honors. In one test the speed merchant wrote 123 words in one minute and in another test speeded up to 405 letters in 30 seconds.

Mr. Blaisdell explained to the members present the preparation for speed tests, and stated that many of the experts practiced for weeks before the championship contests for the typewriter cup, which is given to the winner each year. The operator also took the typewriter apart, and replaced it in four minutes.

Rev. W. D. Westervelt, who has written two books on the legends of Hawaii, told the members of the club of the old legends. He stated that there were four divisions in the legends of Hawaii and these were called the fairy legends, the gnomes, the legend of double identity and the lizard or dragon.

"A chicken could become a woman or a woman could become a chicken," said Rev. Mr. Westervelt in talking about the folk lore and legends of Honolulu, "but they could not be half woman and half chicken. One of the most interesting legends is the story of a girl who changed herself into a vine and back again. This is along the line of the Hindoo legends."

"The lizard that we first met, a Honolulu at one time was the lizard of Hawaii, and according to the legends the lizard could devour many men and was the source of many tales of men who went out to capture the great reptile. I intend to publish a new book entitled 'The Legends of Hawaii—Gods and Ghosts,' which will tell of many of the stories of the legendary period," concluded Rev. Westervelt.

President Wallace R. Farrington read an invitation from Governor Lucius Pinkham, asking the members of the Ad Club to be present at the reception and ball at the armory on Friday evening, January 31. A copy of Harry Lauder's song "I Love You Honolulu" was received through the courtesy of James A. Dunbar, and Philip Hall sang three verses of the song at today's luncheon.

A letter was received from the Ka'ihi Hospital thanking the Ad Club for its work in making the inmates of that institution allied with the spirit of Christmas. J. M. Riggs, chairman of the Christmas committee, stated that 826 poor people of Honolulu had been given Christmas dinners by the Ad Club. President Farrington announced that the next luncheon would be Y. M. C. A. Day, and the week following the members would receive the Spokane and Denver contingent.

H. O. Blaisdell, former international typewriting champion and now with the Underwood Typewriter Company, gave an impressive demonstration yesterday afternoon at the Star-Bulletin office of the speed both of his own agile fingers and the flying keys of an Underwood machine.

For an hour he showed various tests illustrating the speed, accuracy and easy-running qualities of the Underwood. One of the interesting exhibitions was in accuracy of alignment. He wrote a line, took his machine apart, put it together again and wrote over the same line, the letters corresponding with such perfection that it was impossible to tell that two impressions had been made.

In a test for speed alone he struck the keys of the machine 13 times per second for a full minute. Blindfolded, he wrote 117 words a minute without an error, taking from dictation. In another test on new matter he made 121 words a minute and then kept up a conversation, answering questions asked by a member of the Star-Bulletin staff, while writing at the rate of 98 words a minute with scarcely an error. Later he took one of the Star-Bulletin Underwood machines that has been in use for several years and with no preliminary tuning-up at all wrote 101 words in a minute.

SIGNET RING IS FOUND IN DEBRIS FROM SUBMARINE

Another pathetic reminder of the F-4's brave crew was turned over to the naval authorities here today by Superintendent Alec Lyle of the Inter-Island drydock. It is a 10-karat signet ring, of gold, bearing initials which look like "F L V" in engraved letters of elaborate design.

The ring was found last Friday in a pile of F-4 debris dumped in shallow water on the marine railway side of the drydock when the submarine's interior was being cleared out. A little Hawaiian girl found it, among a mass of debris from the ill-fated craft.

Today Mr. Lyle handed the ring to the naval station authorities. It will be sent to Rear-admiral Clifford J. Boush, commandant at Pearl Harbor, who already has in his possession a human jawbone, found in the same debris, which is to be sent to Washington for possible identification.

ARRESTED ON OPIUM CHARGE AFTER ARRIVAL

Customs Officials Find Two Small Parcels of Drug in Effects of Passenger

H. Rothberg, who arrived in Honolulu from San Francisco in the steamer Manoa yesterday, was arrested by the customs officials this morning and turned over to U. S. Marshal J. J. Smiddy, who booked him on a charge of having opium in possession.

The customs officials say that a search of Rothberg's baggage revealed two small packages of opium concealed in a grip. The drug was confiscated and has been given to Marshal Smiddy as evidence. Rothberg engaged counsel today and was released on bond in the sum of $500. A commissioner's hearing of the case will be held on January 3.

A further investigation is being made by the customs officials, who are of the opinion that more opium may have been brought into Honolulu in the Manoa.

AUTO PARADE IS TO BE FEATURE OF Y CAMPAIGN

Plans were announced last evening for an automobile parade by members of the Y. M. C. A. auto campaign committee on Wednesday afternoon January 5 at 1:30. The parade will precede the campaign for 100 members in 100 minutes. Ed Towse has been named as chairman of the committee on arrangements for the big auto parade.

Members of the campaign committee will ride in the 24 cars that will be used for securing members on that day, and other owners of the six makes of cars in the campaign will be asked to participate in the auto parade. The cars will be decorated and the slogan "Join the Y. M. C. A." will be attached to each automobile.

It was expected that argument in the injunction suit brought by the territory against the Honolulu Rapid Transit and Land Company, which was begun in Circuit Judge Stuart's court yesterday, would be completed this afternoon.
